Inspired by his love of craft beer and his passion to create new, unique spirits, Distiller and Owner Chris Weld is finishing his award-winning Berkshire Bourbon in recently emptied beer barrels. The name of the brewery and beer will be indicated on each bottle and be released only in the region from which it hails.

Released December 2013:

Brewer: Terrapin Beer Company, Athens, GA;

Beer: Barrel-aged Monk's Revenge. A hopped Belgian triple with the flavor and aroma of a double IPA and the fine malt character of a fine Belgian triple, aged in Cabernet barrels. 9.8% ABV

Process: For our Monk's Revenge cask finished bourbon, we put our fully aged Berkshire Bourbon in Monk's Revenge barrels for a six month cask finishing process. During this time the bourbon takes on certain nuances of the Monk's Revenge barrel. The end product is an incredible amalgamation of two unique and wonderful beverages that both came about due to a love of the craft, determination and a desire to produce something different. The resultant beer is complex and spirited.

Tasting Notes: This bourbon represents a melding of three different worlds. The cornerstone of this spirit is definitely bourbon; vanilla, wood, and spicy rye notes. The complexity comes, however, from the wine barrels the Monk's revenge was aged in and the fruity hopped up malty notes of the Monk's revenge itself. Hot damn - this is good stuff!

Product Availability: Approximately 600 bottles will be available in GA - get one if you can!
